PIATIGORSKY CONCERT THURSDAY

Five Seniors Named For Scholarship

Five seniors, Bob Allen, Lorraine Ditzler, Helen Friend, Marie Knobloch, and Grace Krappé this week received Faculty Senate recommendations for the University of Illinois Scholarship available to S. I. N. U. The winner, who has been chosen by preferential voting of the whole faculty, will be named on the college radio program, Half Hour on the Campus, next Tuesday at 2:30 on Station WJPF. This information was released the Egyptian.

Names and recommendations from their major departments of the five students follow:

Bob Allen

Allen, Bob Vincent—(General average 4.313); History Major (major average—4.185).

"Bob Vincent Allen has done distinguished work in History, and in other fields, notably the languages. He has a 4.85 average in History, and a general average of 4.313. He is probably the most widely-read undergraduate on the S. I. N. U. campus. This senior is a person of excellent character and because of his seriousness and intellectual power he may be counted on to do brilliant work in the graduate college."

"Miss Ditzler has carried a full load of class work during her attendance here, and a full load in N. Y. A. or State employment, making high grades both in her major field and elsewhere. I believe as an employee of the History Department she has given entire satisfaction. She has the attitudes and progressive ideals which have been active in the following: Y. W. C. Gov. Green Reveals Stand On USI Issue, Assembly In Recess

By MORRIS POLAN

With the General Assembly in adjournment until January 29, supporters of the bill to convert S. I. N. U. into the University of Southern Illinois this week continued their activities in behalf of the measure as Governor Dwight H. Green told news services he thought the U.S.I. idea was "entitled to consideration."

In a statement to United Press Tuesday, Green said "the people of the southern part of Illinois have been clamoring for a State University for a long time, and I feel they are entitled to consideration, although I haven't analyzed it."

The Governor's statement came on the same day that former Governor John H. Stoltz gave his outright endorsement to establishment of a university for the southern section of the state.

On Monday the U.S.I. bill, having been introduced in the Senate earlier by Senator Criscenti, Murphysboro, was brought up in the House of Representatives by Rep. William McDonald, also of Murphysboro. He had over thirty co-sponsors from Southern Illinois.

Education Committee to Be Named

During adjournment the president of the Senate and the Speaker of the House will complete appointment of various committees including the Education committee whose responsibility it will be to consider the bill and report it out to the Senate and House, respectively.

The bill reported favorably in both houses and will then be ready to hold debate and vote upon it. Three readings of the bill are necessary before it may be voted upon, however, so it will probably be some time before its actual consideration on the floors of the legislature takes place.

Repercussions From The North

Other developments in the U.S.I. campaign have been a second, complete endorsement carried on the editorial page of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat on January 10 and the appearance in the January 10 issue of the Chicago Tribune of an article containing statements from northern sources opposing the creation of a second state university. The latter article contained anti-U.S.I. arguments of G. J. Koerner, former trustee of the University of Illinois, and A. J. Brumbaugh, Dean of Students at Chicago University. (An answer to these arguments may be found on the editorial page of this issue—Ed. Note.)

The various groups are continuing their campaign—the Legionnaires, labor groups, Women's clubs, and other sponsoring organizations, as well as the committees set up at S. I. N. U.

Southern Alumni to Contain Arguments

One of the most effective pieces of propaganda of the whole campaign is expected to be the forthcoming issue of the Southern Alumni who will appear about January 25, and be devoted almost entirely to the "Case for U.S.I." The Alumni will carry introductions by President Pulliam and John Gray Brown, president of the S. I. N. U. Alumni Association. Arguments will be based on materials supplied by the Office of Facts and Figures which is headed by Dr. E. M. McDonald of the Sociology department and Dr. W. C. McDonald of the Mathematics department. The article will be written by and under the supervision of the committee in charge of U. S. I. publicity, which is comprised of Drs. Toney, Harris, and Schneider, all of the English department.

In addition, the "Case for U. S. I." will be illustrated with photographs prepared with the help of Dr. English of the Manual Arts department, and Miss Esther Bramstedt. These photographs will show in striking and impressive fashion the great discrepancy in educational opportunity between the two sections of the state.

TO MEET STUDENT BODY TUESDAY

REV. JOHN E. McCAW

Rev. John E. McCaw, director of the newly-established Student Christian Foundation, will be presented to the student body of Southern Illinois Normal University during the regular chapel exercises Tuesday (January 19) morning at 9 o'clock. Members of the Carbondale Ministerial Association and the executive committee of the Foundation will be in charge of the program.

Rev. McCaw, who will be introduced by President Roscoe Pulliam, will speak to the students on the work carried on by the new interdenominational religious foundation. Former director of the Inter-church Council of the University of Chicago, Rev. McCaw arrived in Carbondale last week to assume his new duties which will include the counseling of individual students, supervising of religious and social activities, and the teaching of elective courses in religion.

The new foundation which is located at 215 Harwood avenue, comes as a result of several years work on the part of the S. I. N. U. Student Christian Council and the Carbondale Ministerial Association.

NEED FOR DAY NURSERY ACUTE IN THIS AREA; PWA TO AID PROJECT

According to a recent committee report, there is an acute need in the Carbondale defense area for a day nursery school to accommodate the children of mothers who are engaged in war work. A committee of townpeople, in collaboration with members of the college faculty, have been working on a plan to establish such a school under the supervision of the college.

An offer has been made by the PWA to fully equip a model nursery for the Carbondale war-worker mothers, provided that S. I. N. U. will sponsor and supervise the nursery school program. This offer by the PWA will hold good only on the condition that the college administration give its approval and support to the plan before Feb. 1. Comparable to Other Defense Areas

The need felt in this defense region has also been of outstanding importance in other defense areas throughout the nation. To alleviate this condition, the federal government passed the Latchum Act which provides for financial aid to nursery schools in defense areas. The proposed nursery would relieve financial support under this Act.

In addition to children of war-worker mothers, the nursery will accept the children of mothers who are attending college and whose hus-

Approximately two-hundred thirty people from this section of the state attended the sixty-ninth annual meeting of the Southern Illinois Horticultural Society held on the campus of S. I. N. U. this week.

The highlight of the meeting was the banquet on Monday night, at which the guest speaker was Mr. Gilbert Clayton of the Illinois Chula States Council. The topic was "Selling Illinois Fruits and Vegetables" and he talked about the relation of the chula state to the consumer.

Pulliam Speaks on U. S. I.

An earlier feature of the banquet was a short talk by President Roscoe Pulliam in which he outlined the case for a University of Southern Illinois to the group. Presiding was S. C. Chandler, consulting entomologist at S. I. N. U. and a member of the Illinois Natural History Survey. During the evening entertainment was furnished by Dr. W. C. McDonald and a committee of the college agriculture club. The S. I. N. U. Madrigal Singers also were featured.

Mr. R. E. Muckelroy, head of the S. I. N. U. agriculture department, opened the program with a welcoming speech. Discussed at the meeting were the problems of the college graduates; many of the topics related directly to the war situation.

Other Topics Discussed

"Helping the Illinois Fruit Grower Solve the Labor Problem" was discussed by Mr. H. C. Buchanan of the U. S. Employment Service, Chicago, Illinois, while Mr. J. Ward, field commodity representative from the O.P.A. office at Springfield, spoke on "High Gasoline and Fuel Oil Rationing Affects the Fruit Grower."

A number of specialists in topics concerning horticulture from the University of Illinois spoke on various problems confronting fruit growers in this area, and reported on research problems which have recently been conducted. S. C. Chandler appeared on the program of the meeting several times.

One interesting feature was the fact that a member who attended this sixty-ninth meeting of the Society was present for his fifty-fourth consecutive year.

Gregor Piatigorsky To Be Here Next Thursday Evening

Columbia Concerts, managers of Gregor Piatigorsky, have a standard test for all applicants for office jobs. The applicant is asked whether he knows anything about music. If the answer is "yes," the next question is: "Can you spell Piatigorsky?" If the applicant meets the test, he is engaged.

But if Piatigorsky is difficult to spell, he is easy to listen to. His sold-out concert last season, in the course of which he will play at Shryock Auditorium, Thursday, January 21, proves that more people like to listen to him every season.

Was Born in Russia

Born in Russia in 1903, Piatigorsky's gifts were so extraordinary that at fifteen he was engaged, at first, of the Imperial Opera in Moscow. He was on his way to a brilliant career in his native land when the revolution came. He escaped to Poland, then Germany. After a brief but bitter struggle with poverty—a period when he played in cafes and cinemas to eke out a living—his talents were recognized and he soon found himself skyrocketing to fame. In his hands the cello became a bask in the limelight usually reserved for more prominent instruments.

First U. S. Tour in 1909

Piatigorsky's first American tour was made on the autumn of 1909. His immediate success was confirmed each season thereafter. He now makes his permanent home here. In the spring of 1937 he took out his first papers and will soon be a full-fledged American.

The cello is married to Jacqueline de Rothschild, daughter of the Baron Edouard de Rothschild, formerly of Paris and now in this country. She is musical, too, playing both piano and bassoon. They have a four-year-old daughter, Josephine, born in France, and a two-year-old son, Jean, born in this country.

According to the New York Sun, "Piatigorsky has the technical equipment, the soul, the temperament, and the platform personality to make himself and his instrument beloved of concert goers. It is with reason that season after season he plays coast-to-coast American tours to sold-out houses."

Mr. Piatigorsky will appear here Thursday, January 21, in Shryock Auditorium.

Famous For Recordings

Piatigorsky's recordings are on the shelves of all music connoisseurs. Formerly the famous cellist recorded for Victor, for whom he did the Beethoven Sonata in G minor, Opus 5, No. 2, with Arthur Schnabel, the Schumann Cello Concerto with the London Philharmonic, and smaller works of Chopin, Scriabin, Tchaikovsky, and Weber.

More recently Piatigorsky has been recording for Columbia. His interpretation of Saint-Saens's Concerto No. 1 in A minor with the Chicago Symphony under the direction of Frederick Stock is one of extraordinary brilliance.

Library staff from 1940 to January, 1942, has returned to the college during her absence she worked as an assistant cataloguer at the University of Texas. Her previous experience includes a two year period as an assistant in the Cataloging Department of the University of Illinois. She received her B.Ed. from Eastern Illinois Normal University, and her B.S. and M.L.S. degrees were received from the University of Illinois.

The book was published by Farrar & Rinehart.

THIS WORLD OF MUSIC

By BEETHOVEN

The value of recorded music in the camps and stations where the men of our armed forces are training or based for fighting has been discussed in this column on several occasions.

Photographs and recordings are especially useful in outlying posts in this country and overseas, where it is difficult or impossible to bring living professional talent save what happens to be in the ranks.

Miss Augusta Kaplan of New York City recently sent a long letter to Howard Taubman of the New York Times, telling how her brother, Corporal Jack Kaplan, and his buddy, Private Winfred Rusker, mapped out and carried through a scheme to give the men on their post somewhere in the West Indies weekly concerts of recorded music. Miss Kaplan's report is worth passing along not only for itself but for the stimulus it may provide to civilians to make contributions of records.

Corporal Kaplan of New York and Private Rusker of Fort Worth, Tex., have been presenting Sunday concerts at 2 p. m. every week since June. The first problem was to obtain enough discs to assure that the programs could be worked out and announced a week or two in advance. The shop in the nearest town had sold most of its supply of good music, and it was impossible to get more. Corporal Kaplan requested his family to ship his own collection from New York, and he and Private Rusker pooled some of their cash and ordered other recordings from stores in the United States. They also approached local citizens and officers of the post for donations of their recordings and were promised complete cooperation.

RESOURCEFUL SOLDIERS.

Being a shrewd shrewd man, Corporal Kaplan avoided selling his collections any such thing as "Music Appreciation." He named the weekly session the "Concert Club." He also arranged for a "Hot Concert Club," but this folded up after a couple of meetings. Miss Kaplan implies that Miss Kaplan implies that the chance for all were for it for dancing, possibly not for listening. In any case, we assume no responsibility for what seems like a slur on an honorable art form, hot jazz.

The concerts have been given at the post theatre. Corporal Kaplan and Private Rusker, who are not proud, have swept the hall each Sunday morning before concert time. They have designed the printed program. They have prepared color effects for the stage. They have been the most efficient of hosts. They have been their own publicity agents. And Corporal Kaplan has been the commentator at each concert.

The commanding officer has not only attended the concerts, but helped out with a loan of a small organ. The Second Piano Concerto. Other officers, army nurses, the chaplain and occasional visitors have sat in on the meetings of the Concert Club. More power to it!

The grapevine is whispering of a talented young American pianist named Leonard Pennario, aged 18, who was born in Buffalo, and now lives in California. After a single audition he was engaged to appear on the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. After a single audition he was engaged to appear next month with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra. Under the circumstances there is a rumor that he might appear with the New York Philharmonic next season, when he is also likely to make his recital debut... provided the army does not get him first.

The pianist is a pupil of Guy Mader, who has appeared at the Hollywood Bowl. He won a contest for pianists of all ages at the San Francisco fair, and he has managed to give concerts while going to high school by doing his school work weeks in advance.

The Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore, is making elaborate plans for the celebration of its seventy-fifth anniversary next month. On Founder's Day, Feb. 12, Ernest Hutcheson, former member of the faculty, will give a piano recital in the afternoon, and that night Olin Downes will deliver the anniversary address.

OFF THE RECORD:

There are three recordings at hand of Moonlight Becomes You. The first is the "The Road to Moscow." It is a conventional enough tune, but it is interesting to compare the styles of three ensembles. Harry James and his orchestra (Capitol) dress it up in an arrangement that is to kill and play it with the elaborate accompaniment. Benny Sherwood and his orchestra (Capitol) are not quite as crafty in their approach, and their straightforward job is the most satisfactory. Johnny Jones and his orchestra (Decca) can play the piano arrangement, and the piano is rather good. Benny Sherwood's "Moonlight Becomes You" with a lively tune by Johnny Mercer, Harlem Butterfly, James and "Five Four That Song Before," and that is fine modesty. Jones plays "Tubbyfoot," which has been around for a while.

Between Northern Illinois with its thirty-six accredited four-year institutions of higher learning and Southern Illinois with only one four-year college, and a teachers' college. They will also depict the comparative densities of populations of the two sections as well as nearness of resources. Other points to be brought out through photographs are the ratio of students to instructors in the two areas and the per capita investment of college property.

Copies of this issue of the Southern Almanac will be mailed not only to all alumni of the college but also to every member of the legislature.

An Answer to Two U. S. I. Opponents

Too many of them never come back, and there is a serious depletion of good leadership.

As the secretary of the North Central Association Mr. Blumhagen also should familiarize himself with the studies of the 1940 census figures, which show that it is the same proportion of people between the ages of 18 and 24 were attending college in the north 22 counties, there would be 4,000 more citizens of Southern Illinois in college. This effectively shows any claim that the upstate educational institutions are adequately meeting the public needs of all of Illinois.

Scarab Deadline Set For February 14; Copy Already Arriving in Completion

Material is already beginning to come in for the 1943 Scarab, literary magazine published by the Sigma Tau Delta, English fraternity. This year's Scarab has a lot of material to be written, reflecting students' viewpoints. Material has already been received from several previous contributors, and it is expected that the contest among the literary classes will move into the field of talent.

Three Divisions

Short stories, essays, and poems will comprise the three divisions. It is believed that the contest for material this year will bring in better material than heretofore. Besides the expected excellence of the material, this year will be well-illustrated, not only by Mr. Bohod's work, but also by student work, a contest for which is anticipated soon.

The deadline for submitting material for the contest is February 14. There is a box in the English office, conveniently located for this purpose.

Sprinkled among the "sloppy" sweaters, tweed suits, boanies, and garish socks which make up the traditional garb of Joe Southern were half a dozen or so uniforms of Southern men in service who re-visited the scene of their former activities last week. Among them were Dee Rodd, commissioned ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve, Glen Mallory, warrant officer in the Army, and Dwight Teel, second lieutenant in the Signal Corps.

Mallory, a native of Sesser, has been in service nearly two years, and is now stationed with the Seventh Armored Division at North Camp Polk, Louisiana. As a warrant officer, his official title is "Mister Mallory", although he wears the uniform and receives the salary of a lieutenant. His specialty is administration. He stated that he has been "extremely fortunate to still be in the States, as his former outfit is now ready to go overseas, although he prophesied that the armored divisions would have most of the final "mopping up" to do.

U. S. I. COMMITTEE IS NAMED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

A former student, Dwight Teel, spent several months on the faculty of the rural education department as critic in a practice school. Visiting the campus with him was his wife, Eugenia, also a Southerner, now teaching.

Lloyd Rains gives a summary of his months in the service: "I was sworn into the Army on Saturday, July 11, 1942, following the close of the first summer session. I went to Scott Field Reception Center... tested for four divisions of the Army... as Dame Fortune would have it, the Air Force was the choice... was at Atlantic City, N. J., for three and one-half weeks... spent in taking tests, classifications, basic drill."

Pvt. Rains describes the next six weeks as a "regular picnic" in a C. A. A. Coastal Tower Operators school in Flushing, New York, with fifty men and no officers in an apartment house, with only school hours to keep and the rest of New York to see, with $21.50 every ten days to live on. The group of fifty was chosen from 40,000 at Atlantic City and all had an IQ of 125 or more.

Spanish Club Fiesta

The Spanish Club Fiesta held last Friday, January 8, in the Little Theater was the first social function of the Spanish Club. A number of the forty-five guests cooperated by dressing in costumes imitating either Mexico, Brazil or Spain, and adding color to the room which was decorated in typically Spanish style complete with the traditional "pinatas".

The "pinatas" is a water jug decorated to resemble such objects as a cactus plant or a reindeer and filled with gifts or candy. It is suspended from the ceiling and broken with a stick, in Spanish homes, at the end of a party.

Dr. J. Cary Davis, sponsor of the club, enthusiastically led the guests in singing Spanish songs, accompanied by John Nicholson with his accordion. Mary Frances Allen played a Spanish piano solo and various games were conducted by Audrey Field. The highlight of the evening was reached when, spurred on by shouts of the crowd, the blindfolded guests broke the "pinatas", scattering candy and gifts below. After informal dancing the party closed with a Congo line.

The club will meet again Tuesday, January 26, at 9:00 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. room in the Little Theater.

Courtview Co-op

Last evening Courtview Co-op had Dean and Mrs. E. G. Lentz as guests for dinner. After the meal there was a general informal discussion of problems and activities of the Co-op, with special reference to war-time difficulties and functions of the local Co-operative Council.

Next Friday evening, January 22, Courtview Co-op plans to hold its Winter Term House-Party, which this year will be expanded into a special "last-for-the-duration" reunion

NAVY TO TAKE VOLUNTEERS ONLY IN JANUARY

MARINE CORPS AND COAST GUARD ALSO AWAITING COMBINED-CALLS PLAN

Following establishment of procedure to levy calls for inductees for all branches of the armed forces, which is expected to be perfected about February 1, the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard will obtain virtually all of their required manpower during January from among Selective Service registrants who volunteer for induction. Inductees for the army during this period will be selected and forwarded by the local boards in accordance with existing procedure prescribed by Selective Service regulations.

The executive order, issued by President Roosevelt on December 5, 1942, halted induction into any of the armed forces of registrants between the ages of 18 and 25 years except under the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. This halting of enlistment to meet military needs was to be done at the discretion of the respective services, made it necessary to provide temporary induction procedure for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, which had been receiving through the Selective Service, until arrangements for coordinating their calls with the Army can be made.

Incidentally, the induction of volunteer Selective Service registrants into the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard under this temporary arrangement will be the first time these services had recruited elsewhere than by enlistments since World War I. During the previous conflict enlistments were stopped in October, 1918, and during that month and the next, up to the armistice on November 11, 1918, approximately 650,000 men were drafted for the Marine Corps and about 1,300 for the Navy.

Instructions sent to local boards by national headquarters (L. B. R. 172) outlining temporary induction procedure for the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard states that any registrant between the ages of 15 and 25 who wishes to volunteer for induction into one of these services may make application with his local board by completing an application for voluntary induction (form 16B), provided he has not previously been ordered to report for induction into the Army.

Physical Test Waived

The requirement that before classification a volunteer for induction be physically examined by a local board examining physician is waived under this temporary procedure for Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard volunteers. If the registrant is not placed in a deferred classification, the local board will prepare and turn over to the registrant certain specified forms, including an Order to Report for Induction (Form 16A) for delivery to the commanding officer of the nearest recruiting station of the service for which he has volunteered.

Volunteers who are inducted will be classified in Class I-C. A volunteer who was not found acceptable for service for which he volunteered but whose defects do not manifestly disqualify him for service in the land or naval forces will be of present and former members of the co-operative, which was the House of 808 before this year. The affair will take place in the Little Theatre, with music by recordings.

Rumors Flit As Anthony Hallers Fear Evacuation

By DOROTHA TWOMEY

There has been much talk lately about the taking over of Anthony Hall for use by the armed forces. The proposed plan is to bring a group of Army or Navy men here for training at the college and quarters clean at the Hall and at various places in town. Whether this will or will not occur, we students do not know.

The girls at Anthony Hall, in general are reluctant to leave the dorm but feel it is their duty to do so if they are asked if this plan goes into effect. Opinion runs from a flat "I don't want to leave" to enthusiasm for the idea. Many of the girls say they do not know when they will find another place to live, while several have expressed the opinion that it would be nice to live outside, perhaps in an apartment, "just for a while".

Some Suggest Other Possibilities

One of the girls made the suggestion that barracks be erected on the football field if the men are brought here. Another said their coming would be good for the school, and still another that it would be our duty to do as much as we could for the boys who are doing and give up our dormitory.

"Other people are doing so much that we should be willing to do what we can," was one verdict.

Another comment was, "I'm going to give up my career to entertain the boys."

A number said that we should be willing to give up our comforts to let those who are doing so much for us, and one of them even offered to leave her bedspread and frilly curtains for the boys to use.

One bonnie lass admitted that leaving her pretty room was going to be a hardship but that she was willing to make that sacrifice. As one student put it, "I have to do it for my country. I have to do it for my country."

"I've just moved in and hung my curtains up, and I'll be darned if I want to take them down again," was a third floor girl's lament.

Another moaned, "I've just invested $5.00 in my Anthony Hall pin."

As a rule the Anthony Hall girls agree that they will make it necessary, but they earnestly request the men to take care of the furnishings.

Former Faculty Member Has Position at Texas U.

Dr. Alleen Carpenter, former member of Southern's Women's Physical Education Department, recently accepted a position as associate professor of Physical Education at the University of Texas. Since leaving here in 1938, Dr. Carpenter has been in charge of the Physical Education work at the Kansas City Teachers' College, Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Carpenter has been through the country through her writing and her frequent participation in national and regional conventions.

retained in Class I-A but will not again be forwarded for induction until regular combined calls are levied for all branches of the armed forces. A volunteer who is rejected as manifestly disqualified will be placed in Class I-V.

Volunteers for induction into the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard are required to provide their own transportation to the nearest recruiting station or substitution of the service for which they volunteer. Travel required thereafter will be at government expense.

Registrants volunteering for induction into the Army ahead of their call by order number will be forwarded to Army induction stations at the earliest opportunity in accordance with existing procedure prescribed by Selective Service regulations.

Occupational Deferment

WASHINGTON (ACF)—Men in good standing who have had a year of almost any sort of engineering course—including sanitary, industrial, radio, transportation, mining and metallurgy—have a basis for requesting occupational deferment, according to a recent amendment to Selective Service's Occupational Bulletin, No. 10.

The same goes for men who have more than two years remaining to certain other specialized courses—bacteriology, physics, geophysics, astrophysics, chemistry, mathematics, meteorology, naval architecture and psychology.

If you're interested, you might check at your local Selective Service Board, which probably has a copy of the amendment.

Reynolds Leaves SINU For U. S. Marine Corps

Bill Reynolds, from Vienna, outstanding senior, received notice this week to report for duty with the United States Marine Corps. Bill has been a well known figure on campus life since he came here on a scholarship in 1938. At present he is editing the 1943 Obelisk. Always an active participant in college affairs, his voice has been heard many times, either in hearty support of some issue, or in violent criticism of things as they are.

He is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, Kappa Delta Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity, and has been active on the staffs of both the Egyptian and the Obelisk. One year he was co-editor of the Scarab, what was then the literary supplement of the Egyptian.

Establishing residence at Harvard Hall as a freshman, he has been active in many social activities. Recently he was chosen for the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Cattle Scuttled In Tucker Start

Young Bandmen Had to Clear Stable for Dancing Listeners

Many musicians have been launched on careers by appearing in taverns, concert halls, and dance palaces... but not Tommy Tucker. He started his career in a barn.

The young maestro, who hails from the plains of North Dakota, got his start playing in a stable that was converted into a dance hall at night.

Tommy, who since has played in every leading city and resort in the nation, will appear Monday night over the Blue Network at 9:30, E.W.T. on "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands."

The barn playing engagement has never been entirely forgotten by Tommy, who is brutally reminded of it every time he sees a cow. He hates cows.

TOWN OF SINGERS

Portsmouth, Va., is a town that produces singers for Tommy Tucker's orchestra... by coincidence or otherwise. The first girl singer in the band came from there, and Amy Arnell, who will be featured with the orchestra when it appears Monday night on "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" at 9:30, E.W.T. over the Blue Network, also calls Portsmouth her home town.

RUSSIAN CLASS ATTRACT STUDENTS, FACULTY MEMBERS EVERY TUESDAY

By CONNIE LAFFOON

Every Tuesday night from 7 to 9 an average of 7 people meet together to delve into the mysteries of the Russian language. The class meets under the direction of Dr. J. Cary Davis of the Foreign Language department, and students receive at the present time no credit for their efforts.

Some faculty members in the class are: Miss Madeleine Smith, Foreign Language; Miss Esther Power, English; Mrs. McDavid, English. The remainder of the class is composed of students and others interested in Russian.

Dr. Davis became interested in Russian language, but didn't actually do any work on it until about a year ago, when he got a Russian grammar. Then, this summer, he started in earnest on it. When the class was organized, he consented to teach it.

Students Well Versed in Languages

The class as a whole speaks several languages, ranging from Latin and Greek to French and Spanish. So they all have a common linguistic background in one or another language.

During the evening the class read the lesson in Russian, the correctness of accent of which no one was able to verify. They also translated to and from Russian and wrote sentences on the board.

The sentences to the layman were an utter mystery being written in both the Russian print and script. At first, the language appears hopelessly difficult, but those who have mastered the intricacies of the alphabet claim that in some ways Russian is easier than other languages.

Difficulty of Script

The Russian alphabet has 33 characters, hardly any of which resemble their corresponding English letters. Many of them are of Greek origin. So it is not strange that Russian to the unpracticed eye appears to be a queer conglomeration of scrawls. But, in reality, it is one of the most interesting languages that can be studied and at present one of the most vital!

MAROONS SMOTHER RED BIRDS 41-30 SOUTHERN LEADS ALL THE WAY

By Hal Butler

Despite pessimistic pre-game forecasts by the Southern backers, the Maroons continued their victory march at the expense of last year's conference champions.

The boys from Old Normal seemed to persist on playing slow, deliberate basketball, but this proved very ineffective against Southern's onslaught. The Maroons opened the game with a passing attack that was nothing short of superb, and used their fast break with success time after time. The officials found it extremely difficult to keep the game under control, and at times it resembled a "free for all."

22-11 At Half

The intermission came with Southern in front by 11 points. Normal didn't like the brand of ball they were playing, but there wasn't a great deal that they could do about it, so the "helter-skelter" brand of ball continued throughout the game.

Normal's Fifth Conference Game

This was the Red Birds' first conference tilt, and they had no intentions of giving up so easily. Shortly after the second half began, Normal pounded in 3 quick baskets, pulling up to within 6 points of the lead, but this slight chance was short-lived, as Southern re-opened their offensive.

C'dale Subdues Charleston, Ill. Wesleyan Last Week-end

Starting slowly, but gaining momentum as they roll along, the Maroon and White subdued two more strong foes consecutively last Friday and Saturday nights.

Carbondale moved into Charleston with a determination to win, and never gave the Panthers even a slight flicker of hope throughout the entire game. Southern's fast break was superb and the whole team seemed to function like a well-oiled machine. Captain John Sebastian netted 27 points alone, and was taken out of the game before the second half was completed. Southern had a 10-point lead at the intermission, and it was quite evident that the situation was well in hand.

Dick Lebr, Charleston's highly reputed forward from Albion, scored a grand total of four free throws. This magnificent job of guarding was turned in by Ed Moody, diminutive but dynamic guard from Du Quoin.

VIEWING THE Intramurals

By HAROLD SHANAHAN

Monday's Games

Six opening round games were played Monday evening, three in the gym, to open the intramural basketball season and three in the women's hall season. In the men's gym, the Chi Delta five defeated the Spirits of 76, 25-14; N. E. A. trounced Dunbar 35-14; and the House of 519 quarter overwhelmed the Gym Team 31-6.

The Chi Delta Chi team played a much smoother game than did the Spirits and were able to build a comfortable margin throughout the game. Everett Goddard scored 10 points to lead his team's scoring, but was assisted by Grant Hayes, and Hedges. Rockwell McCreight led the Spirits in scoring with 5 points in tie for the game's scoring honors.

SOUTHERNERS OUT FOR REVENGE IN TOMORROW NIGHT'S ENCOUNTER

With the victory over Normal Wednesday night, as an added stimulus, Southern's cage squad will be out for revenge when they meet Evansville again on Saturday night. Evansville, defeated Carbondale 44-33 in the Maroons' first contest of the season, but it is believed that this game will see a different story.

Evansville were led by their ranny-center and captain Calloway in their game here December 10. A forward, Chambers, and a guard, Miller, were also very effective that night. The Indiana quintet possesses height and experience and have very accurate shooting eyes.

Have Won 5 Out of 8 Games

Carbondale has been clicking well lately; few games and have garnered 5 out of 8 contests. Captain Sebastian for N.E.A. Tom McDonald, McPhail, and Hood started hitting for the Maroon quintet and pulled their team up to 10-4 at half time. But the height and rugged determination of Sierra Beta finally led them to a hard earned victory.

Ending Tuesday night's round of play was the Chi Delta Chi-Harwood Hall contest.

The score: Chi Delta 35, Harwood 15. Jack Hayse, who displays his tumbling talent so well on the gym team, landed equally potent in dropping in field goals in basketball. He scored 5 baskets and 1 foul shot for a total of 11 points to lead his team. Green, Hedges, and Goddard were also well up in the scoring column for the Delta. Louis March and Wayne Kallenbach each scored 6 points to pair Harwood Hall.

SINU GYM TEAM GETS BEST RATING FROM A.A.G.U.; RYLANDER HONORED

The Amateur Athletic Gymnastics Union in their annual year-book paid tribute to the Carbondale Teachers' Gym Team of 1941-42.

A photo of last year's squad appears on one of the middle pages of the book with last year's squad members listed. Southern's team was credited as being the best in the country among the smaller colleges and universities. Credit is given to the fine work of Coach DiGiovanna who worked so hard to build his team into a strong unit. Mention is also given to Roy Rylander as one of last year's best gymnasts.

REPORTER ON THE RAMPAGE

By BOB EATON

Last week I spoke of the Maroon and other undesirable qualities which over-emphasized athletic prowess, this week I would like to linger for a moment on a more timely topic related if not evolving from the former.

The closing days of the month will find many in the teenage bracket laying aside books and taking up more serious implements. Among them in this particular age-group you will find the ambitious, the intensely ambitious. Psychologists fear this fierce desire for living as merely one of the symptoms of an adolescent, pre-responsibility period. Nevertheless other aspects can easily be considered especially by one who, by chance, happens to fall into the group in question.

Come into the service without too much reliance on text are students out of widely differing fields: pre-medical, pre-law, pre-engineering, pre-journalism, technical trades, etc. Many are interrupted in the middle of their study; these same look dejectedly to the day when the day is breached and their progress forward more discernible. Injustice dominates them naturally; those that are sincere, that is, and for what will they plead on their return?

That they might continue and complete their studies with the least possible interruption or delay; that they might apply their fervent efforts and abilities toward the culmination of theorizing and the commencement of action—the practice of their profession or trade—is all they ask!

It is my contention that those serious minds be permitted to develop; for posterity's dependence upon them is tremendous to a degree comparable only to their individual responsibility to posterity.

It is my contention that no technical training be forced upon them after the war.

It is my contention that they be reinstated at their particular colleges fully accredited in Physical Education, at present deemed compulsory by law!

Yan Men Make Trip

A grand total of ten men made the trip, and each had the privilege of seeing plenty of action. The Maroon second team has proven its worth and will probably see more action than the subordinates of the past few seasons.

Yan Men Make Trip

Wesleyan Coach, But Not Good Enough

Reported to have the best team in the past five years, Illinois Wesleyan trotted out on their home floor Saturday night with cocky, defiant attitude, but when the Maroons showed up, the boys from Little Egypt held the upper hand, and completed a perfect week-end.

Score Tied at Half

Both teams were fast, agile, and possessed plenty of natural ability. The score was tied at the intermission, and the Maroons seemed to be lifting a little. This opinion was entirely unfounded because the second half was faster yet than the preceding portion of the game.

Moody Stars

With but one minute remaining to play, Ed Moody, who had already proven his prowess against Charleston, scored two quick baskets to enable the Maroons to come through with the victory. Sebastian scored 13 points in this game, and shared honors with Moody.

Robinson, Star on Centennial's Chances

A Little Forecasting

Two nights of action have been completed and the teams can now be judged as to their chances of victory. The Sigma Beta Mu and Chi Delta Chi quintets appear to be the strongest outfits. The Delta Chi have Nick Milosovich, Bill Malinsky, Carlyle Mitchell, Stanton Cook, all of whom played varsity basketball at one time or another. This team possesses speed, experience, and fought with skill in defense their rank as co-favorites. The Delta Chi and the best organized squad in the town and have the finest ball handling players Bill Green, Jack Hayse, Jack Hedgoc, and Everett Goddard are valuable to a winning team for their possession fine shooting eyes and determination. The N.E.A. and PA. quintets will be a thorn in the side of every opponent they face, and may have something to say about who will be the top team at the finish.

Vocational Emphasis Week:
The Baptist Student Union has been observing "Vocational Emphasis Week" this week with all unit organizations cooperating. At the Baptist Training Union Sunday evening at the Walnut Street church, Jean Jacobs and Jimmy Graves debated the question "Resolved: That one should make an early decision as to what his life's vocation will be." Speakers at the noon-day prayer meeting have been speaking on the subject of vocations. Speakers were: Bill Glascock, Monday, Vivian Kattler, Tuesday, Glen Kelley, Wednesday, musical program, Thursday, Mattie Lou Marrie, Friday.

The entire B.S.U. were guests at the regular meeting Thursday evening of the Y.W.A. B.S.U. Girls' Missionary organization on the campus. Speakers were George Schroeder, State Baptist Brotherhood Secretary, and Miss Josephine Jones, State Baptist W.M.T. Secretary, who spoke on the subject of the week, "Vocations."

Sunday morning in the assembly of the student Sunday school classes at the Walnut Street church, vocation will be emphasized further.

Sunday evening, following the regular services of the church service, a group of local people from the church will climax the week's discussion by discussing their respective vocations at a round-table discussion during the Weekly Fellowship Hour period of the B.S.U. Student Sunday School Classes Party.

The student Sunday school classes of the B.S.U. will have a party at the Baptist Foundation, Tuesday evening beginning at 7 o'clock. Other students are invited.

Ina Ray Hutton Is "Dare-Devil" of Music World

Ina Ray Hutton, a "conservative" by birth, but a daredevil by heritage, musically leans the latter direction.

After all, Ina Ray, has the only female "big name" in the orchestra world... and her band is composed entirely of males.

Ina Ray will bring her band to the air lanes Tuesday night when she appears at 9:30, EWT, over the Blue Network on "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands."

Born in Chicago, young Miss Hutton picked up her saxophone rhythms from her mother, Marvel Ray, who was a professional pianist. Her daredevil heritages comes from her great-grand-uncle, General Pickett.

Miss Hutton made her first professional appearance with Gus Edwards. To this day she both sings and dances... part of her early stage training. Strange as it seems, though, she does not play with her hand... but makes a lot of her own arrangements.

She started in the band business with an all-girl orchestra. But they were "easier to look at than they were to listen to," so Ina Ray broke it up.

Still wanting to lead a band, she signed up male musicians.

Incidentally, despite the fact that her blond loveliness attracts the male members on the dance floor, Ina Ray directs her music directly to the female members of the dancing public.

ELECTRICIANS NEEDED!

The commandant of the navy yard at Mare Island, Calif., has issued an urgent request for many skilled electricians whose services are needed immediately for the completion of essential repairs and replacements on battle damaged ships and other naval vessels critically needed in the Pacific fleet.

The Navy Department will pay the cost of transportation and subsistence from Chicago to Vallejo, Calif., for qualified personnel to staff these very vital vacancies.

In addition to electricians, experienced boilermakers, cooperatives, instrument makers, machinists, sheet metal workers and shipfitters are required. Wages from $1.10 to $1.20 per hour are paid for a forty-hour work week with overtime of the Extension 589.

BOOKS IN REVIEW By DELBERT HAMILTON

(Continued from page 2) cluded Farrell's trilogy. The book is admittedly pornographic and about as photographically realistic as anything in print. But it is above all a sincere work, and it has captured a young man, a neighborhood, a city, and a period as few novels have ever done. Albert Halper, who doesn't leave much for the imagination either, hasn't been bothered by any censorship or controversy. But his writing up to the moment hasn't been quite as impressive as that of James T. Farrell. Or maybe the Farrelites just haven't discovered him yet.

The work of Halper and Farrell is not for the squeamish. It is not for those escapists who look to books and movies for a world in which there is just the right touch of tragedy to satisfy their sadism, but ends with that final joyous climax. It is for those who can stand to see life as it is and not as it might be. As William Saroyan says, (and we hate to quote him) life has never fallen into the neat pattern of the short story.

The work of Halper and Farrell is for those who have a faint suspicion that the brave new world is still a long way off.
